I went from $3K to $30K months in 8 months.

It wasn't a new funnel.
It wasn't more content.
It wasn't a bigger audience.

It was 5 quiet shifts nobody wants to teach.

Shift 1 — I stopped charging for my time.

Time-based pricing caps your income at your calendar.

I started charging for the outcome.
Same work. 4x the price. Zero guilt.

Shift 2 — I got specific about the result.

"Helping founders grow" → nobody cared.

"Helping coaches land 5 premium clients in 60 days" → fully booked in 3 weeks.

Vague doesn't sell. Specific does.

Shift 3 — I stopped discounting.

Every discount taught me to attract price shoppers.

Once I held the price, the right clients showed up.
Premium buyers trust the number. They mistrust the sale.

Shift 4 — I built one clear offer.

Before: 6 services, 12 price points, 0 clarity.

After: one offer, one price, one promise.

Clients don't pay premium for options.
They pay premium for certainty.

Shift 5 — I led every call.

I stopped asking "what do you think?"
I started saying "here's what you need."

Advisors charge premium.
Order-takers compete on price.
