

friction. It lowers the trust you've earned.

2. Cheap clients aren't loyal.

They're shopping the next discount before you finish.

3. Discount once. Renegotiate

forever. You trained them to wait you out.

4. Premium pricing is not arrogance. It's a filter for serious buyers.

5. The lower the number, the louder the doubt — yours, theirs, the work's.

6. Underpriced experts

spend their lives

defending their value.

7. Raise the price. Sharpen

the offer. Stop apologizing for being expensive.

Cheap doesn't convert. Cheap consoles.
