Your niche is not a niche.

It is a category.
And categories do not convert.

You said: "I help coaches."

Which coach? Life, career, executive, health, relationship, business, mindset?

Seven people heard seven different pitches.

A niche is not an industry.
A niche is a situation.

"Therapists who hate marketing" is a niche.
"Wellness" is a shelf.

- You describe your client by their job title
- You can't name the last thing they lost sleep over
- Your content could belong to three other coaches
- Every referral still needs a 10-minute explanation

Broad:
"I help entrepreneurs grow."

Sharp:
"I help solo consultants stop trading hours for dollars."

Same expertise. Different bank account.

Write your niche as a sentence a 12-year-old could repeat.

If they can't repeat it, the market can't refer it.
