

If nobody saw the work,
it didn't happen.

2. Buyers don't audit your history. They read the evidence in front of them.

3. The best work in the room
loses to the loudest story
in the room. Every time.

4. Outcomes need a narrator.
Without one, they look like luck.

5. Don't post highlights.
Post the before, the bend,
the boring middle.

6. Show the room you walked into. Show the room you walked out of.

7. Proof isn't bragging.
Silence is. You owe the next client the receipt.

Your work needs a witness.
