They did not ghost you because of price.

They ghosted because they could not picture it working for them.

"Let me think about it" is almost never about money.

It is about belief.

Translation: "I can see this works.

I just cannot see it working for someone like me."

The gap is not in your offer.

It is in their story about themselves.

Show them someone who started exactly where they are.

That is the unlock. Not more features.
