

POSTING DAILY WON'T FIX A VAGUE OFFER.

1. You don't have a content problem.

You have an offer problem.

2. More posts won't make a fuzzy offer feel buyable.

3. Volume can't replace clarity.

Frequency can't replace specifics.

4. "What do you actually sell?"

If you can't answer in one line, neither can your audience.

5. Your followers don't owe you a purchase.

They owe you nothing until the offer makes sense.

6. Stop scheduling posts.

Start sharpening the offer.

7. Clear offer + half the posts

= more clients than vague offer + daily content.

Until the offer is undeniable,
the content is just noise.
